INTRODUCTION.

In 1962, a Member of the Government said that the population of England and Wales would increase by $5\frac{1}{2}$ millions in twenty years. Recently in 1963, the present Minister of Housing and Local Government stated that this estimate has already proved to be too small; it is now predicted that between 1961 and 1981 there will be an increase of over 7 millions. Moreover, this growth of population is expected to continue at an increasing rate until the year 2,000 at least, with the growth during the last twenty years of the century likely to exceed $9\frac{1}{2}$ millions. There are 47 million people in England and Wales today; by the turn of the century there will be 64 million, and they will all need somewhere to live.

$3\frac{1}{2}$ millions of the increase by 1981 will be in the South East of England and it seems unlikely that an attractive district like Midhurst will escape a proportion of this increase. In 1950 the housing waiting list in this district numbered 534; this figure fell gradually to 290 in 1958, but since then it has risen gradually to 394. There is evidently no slackening in the demand for Council houses.

The Registrar-General's detailed report on the 1961 Census has not yet been published for Sussex so that the age structure of the population at the present time must still be calculated from the 1951 Census and from the trends revealed then. The Council has, however, made a significant contribution towards meeting the needs of old people by the opening during 1962 of Egmont House, a block of flatlets providing "independent housing under supervision" for a small number of old people. This type of accommodation has proved popular wherever it has been built and although with central heating, constant hot water, and other facilities, it is relatively expensive to build and to run, such expenditure must be seen in relation to the cost of hospital beds and welfare homes. Both of the latter will be spared by encouraging and enabling old people to maintain their independence, so that less fit old people will need institutional care.

In time, welfare homes will become more and more concerned with the care of partially disabled old people, while the fit and nearly fit will remain a housing rather than a welfare problem.

Section I

STATISTICS AND SOCIAL CONDITIONS.

The District is an agricultural and residential one occupying the North-Western corner of West Sussex. The Counties of Hampshire and Surrey lie to the West and North respectively, Chichester Rural District to the South, and Petworth to the East.

Apart from agriculture, there are other minor industries providing employment, and holiday traffic brings a considerable amount of trade to hotels and cafes.

1962	300	132	168	16.77	9.39	14.2	14.9	11.9

When dealing with a small population such as that of this District, a certain random fluctuation from year to year in birth and death rates is to be expected. This is illustrated by the figures for the last ten years shown on Page 10.

Of the total deaths recorded during 1962, 249 or 83% occurred in persons aged 65 years or over; 197 or 66% in persons aged 75 years or over, and 82 or 27% in persons aged 85 years or over.

The chief causes of death in order of frequency were:-

	1961	1962
(i) Diseases of heart & circulatory system	92(37%)	100(33%)
(ii) Vascular lesions of nervous system	49(20%)	68(23%)
(iii) Neoplasms (growths)	45(18%)	49(16%)
(iv) Respiratory Diseases (excluding Pulmonary Tuberculosis	28(11%)	37(12%)

These four causes accounted for 254 or 85% of the total deaths.

A table at the end of this Section shows the age, sex distribution and causes of death in 1962.

Vital Statistics (contd.)

During the year deaths exceeded births by 71, and the Registrar-General's estimate of population at mid 1962 showed an increase of 370 over the 1961 estimate.

HOUSING

At the close of 1962, the Council's list of housing applicants showed 394 outstanding cases as compared with 391 in 1961.

106 new houses were completed during the year. (82 private and 24 Council houses).

In addition Egmont House at Easebourne was completed. This provides 24 flatlets for old people and a warden's flat. This type of accommodation providing independent housing for old people with a resident warden has proved very successful in many other districts and its immediate success at Easebourne will probably lead to similar provision in other parts of the rural district.

Housing Act, 1957.

Action was taken under Section 16 of this Act which resulted in six Undertakings being accepted, and four Closing Orders and three Demolition Orders being made.

Eight houses were demolished during the year.

Improvement Grants.

Housing (Financial Provisions) Act, 1958 - Discretionary Grants.

Under the "Discretionary" Grant Scheme grant can be obtained up to one-half of the cost of carrying out the improvements subject to a maximum of £400, the dwelling on completion of the works being brought up to a definite standard laid down. As its name implies, the giving of grant under this scheme is entirely at the discretion of the Council, but in the case of a refusal the Council must give its reasons.

During the year applications were received for the improvement of 41 dwellings. Of these, 38 were approved, and 3 were under consideration.

The number of houses reconditioned during 1962 with the aid of this grant was 52. Since the Act came into force the number of houses completed is 438.

House Purchase and Housing Act, 1959 - Standard Grants.

Under the "Standard" Grant Scheme it is compulsory for the Council to give grants not exceeding one-half of the cost and up to a maximum of £155 for the provision of bath, water closet, wash-hand basin, hot and cold water system and larder, the maximum to be reduced by £25 if there is a bath in existence, by £40 if there is a water closet, by £5 if there is a wash-hand basin, by

Standard Grants (contd.)

£75 if there is a hot and cold water system, and by £10 if there is a larder, subject to the dwelling in question being fit after the above amenities have been provided.

During the year applications were received in respect of 23 dwellings, and improvements have been carried out with the aid of this grant at 14 dwellings. Since the Act came into force the total number of houses completed is 35.

Rent Act, 1957.

No applications were received during the year for Certificates of Disrepair.
